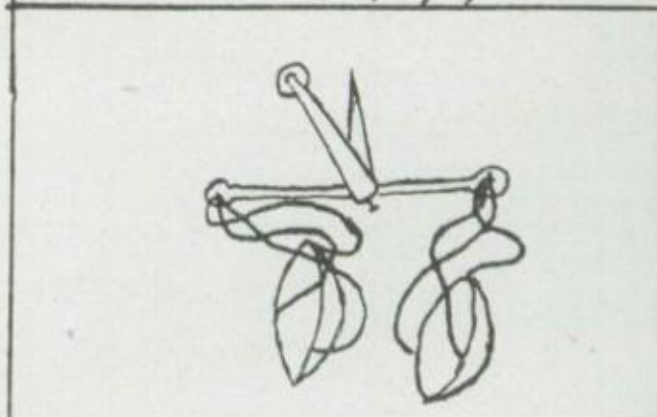
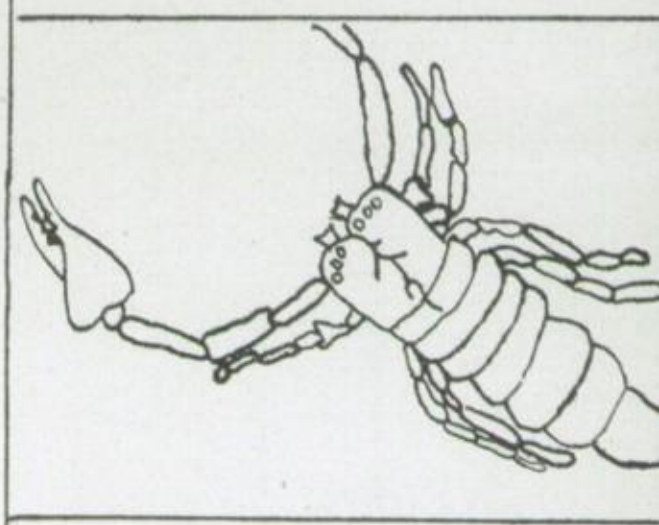
Foreword

As you wander through the pages of this book with us, we hope to recall to your mind happy memories of things past, and bring to mind pleasant dreams of things to come. We have chosen the theme, "Our Times," with the hope that it will be your times in high school and that you will read yourself into the pages.





Ah, yes. Study time is here again.

Yes, it's back to school again, dusting off old books and buying new. We also find that our brains are a little rusty and wander back to summer memories. And wait! I nearly forgot. I've got to buy my activity ticket!

Best of Luck always
Gerald Lemmons

Preparing for the sale of activity tickets.

Best of luck for a swell girl and neighbor;

We learn how to take care of our cars mechanically inside . . .

As the days hurry on, we find there are new classes, new friends, and new interests. Before long we are engrossed in what we are doing.

. . . and out in auto mechanics.

Senior campaign managers hold pre-election rallies.

And then excitement runs high as campaigns for class officers get into full swing. Sometimes the campaigns become hotly contested as two favorites tie. The excitement over, there comes the soothing melodies from the organ at which some of our group are becoming quite accomplished.

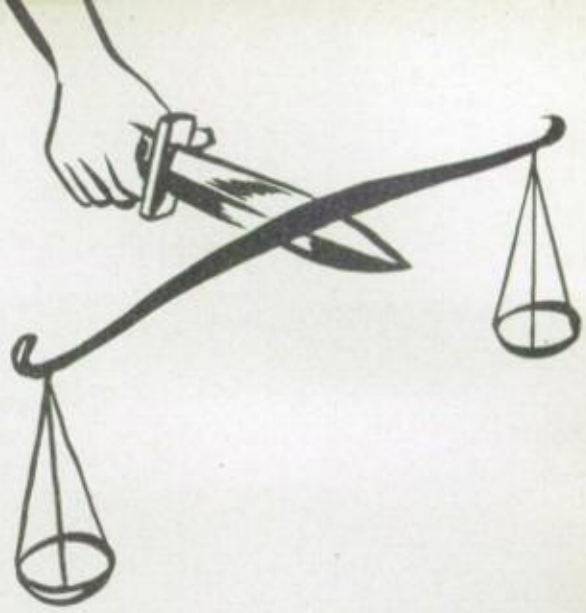
Merle's Organ Melodies

Dear Marie,
I wish you all the happiness in the world and much success upon which your piano and singing. Love, Ego Merle

"Come, ye thankful people, come."

A familiar sight every Monday morning is some member or members of the Music department adding special music to our devotional period. Later, as we wander down the hall, delicious odors come to us as the Home Economics department prepares girls to be competent cooks.

Add two eggs to one cup of flour and beat well.



The Student Council gives us advice from Bemor Careful.

The Student Council makes us more conscious of the treatment we give our books with advice from Bemor Careful in their efforts to serve us and the school. Elections over, the Student Council supplements its treasury by selling pop corn and peanuts at the football games.

Peanuts, ten cents! Buy your peanuts here!

Will he make it? Watch out behind!

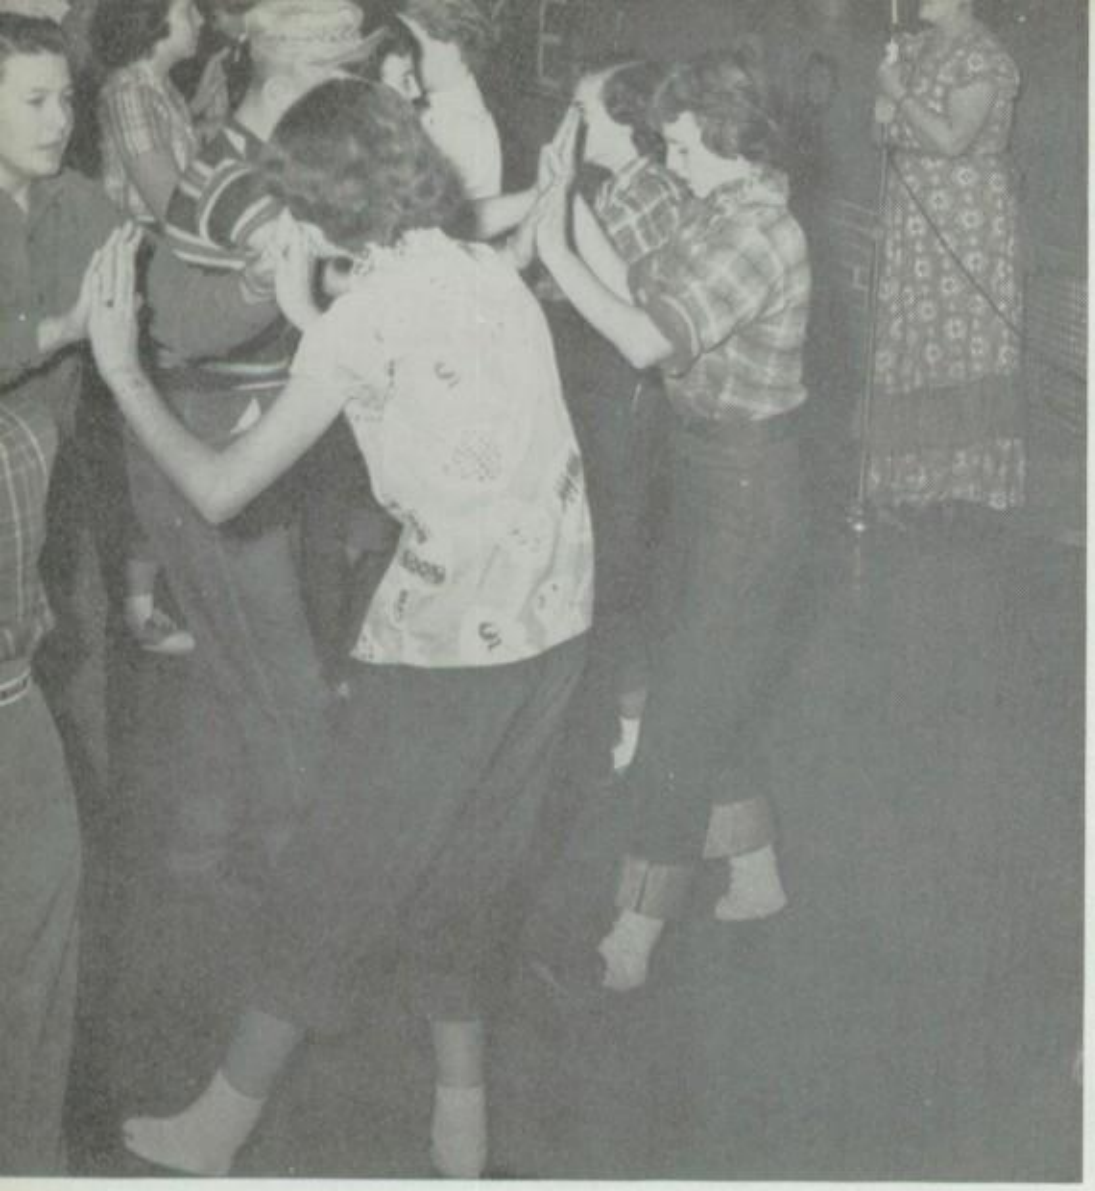
The thrills of football have come again with screams of "We want a touchdown!", "Tackle him!", "Run! Run! Run!" ringing through the night air. And after the games, of course, comes the Frolics, with food games, and dancing furnished by our P.T.A.

I, twenty-five. Do I hear a Bingo?

Miss Key Club and her court smile happily at the crowd.

At the last home game, one of our girls is given the title of "Miss Key Club." For a week the school is in a state of excitement. Who will she be? Then when it's over, department projects claim us as we are well into the routine of school life again.

Modern Romans make money to buy a recorder.



Heel and toe; heel and toe; and slide, slide, slide, slide.

Yes, we all go native on a Saturday night when the Y-Teens have their barn dance. It's very realistic with all the barnyard animals standing around to watch us, and scarecrows peering at us from the cornfields. Not long afterwards come odors of grease paint and poster paint as the John Barrymores and Katherine Hepburns of the senior class prepare for the big night, and, "Mother Is A Freshman."

"Come dance with me," seems to be the thought expressed in this scene from the Senior play.

The Bennett and Edwards annual presentation of awards to outstanding D-B students.

Every December, Bennett and Edwards sends a representative before the student body to present tickets to five boys to attend a New Year's Day bowl game. A murmur always runs through the students as we speculate who the lucky boys will be. This year they were: most valuable, Karl Ketron; Most improved, Skippy Slaughter; highest scholastic in football, Jack Compton; best all-around Senior, Jay Gillenwater; outstanding Senior in the band, Paul Greene.

The football teams and their coaches celebrate the end of the season each year with a big banquet, complete with speakers and pretty waitresses.

The team attends the annual football banquet.

Admiring the coveted Big Five Sportsmanship trophy.

One fine day we welcomed the Big Five Sportsmanship trophy back home after it had had a short visit with Science Hill. We all renewed our vows that this trophy will take its place in our case permanently. The spirit of Christmas invades the halls of D-B the last week before Christmas vacation. The beautifully decorated tree brightens spirits, and the carols sung by the Mixed Chorus leave us all with a feeling of peace.

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly."

Dear Marie,
Always remember
the fun we had in
Mixed Chorus this year.
I hope we can spend the next two years in the Chorus &
maybe Ensemble.
Be good and always sing

"Will it be good?" is the anxious question on the faces of the students and players.

To a very cute and sweet girl. Remember mixed chorus and our wonderful English class. Be good on those fun. Love, Rosemary Ferguson

Christmas vacation over, and exams rear their ugly heads. Finally, though, they are behind us and we can go to the basketball games with a light heart and watch delightedly as the boys pile up win after win in a series of exciting games. The weeks pass and basketball gradually fades out of the picture as baseball comes more and more into the sports spotlight.

Best of Luck to a kind girl. Jimmy Moore

Receiving line for K's.

In the spring we line up and receive our K's proudly, for a lot of hard work goes into earning one of them. These are happy days for all, especially Seniors, although most of them wonder if its not a little sad, too. Then comes one of the great nights in the lives of the Juniors and Seniors – the Junior-Senior Prom! Days before, the girls are describing their dresses, and very little school work is done.

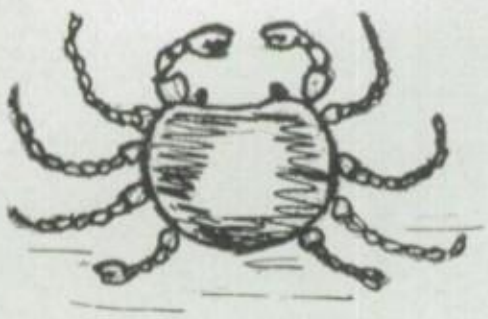
He'd glide 'cross the floor with the girl he adored . . .

Was the water cold, folks?

Spring is "sprung" and the Juniors treat the Seniors to a splash party. Brrr! Is that water cold! After splashing around, as much as we like, there's a theater party for us to attend, also the courtesy of the Junior class.

Ah, the life of a Senior is really wonderful, being treated to such nice things.

It must be a good movie.

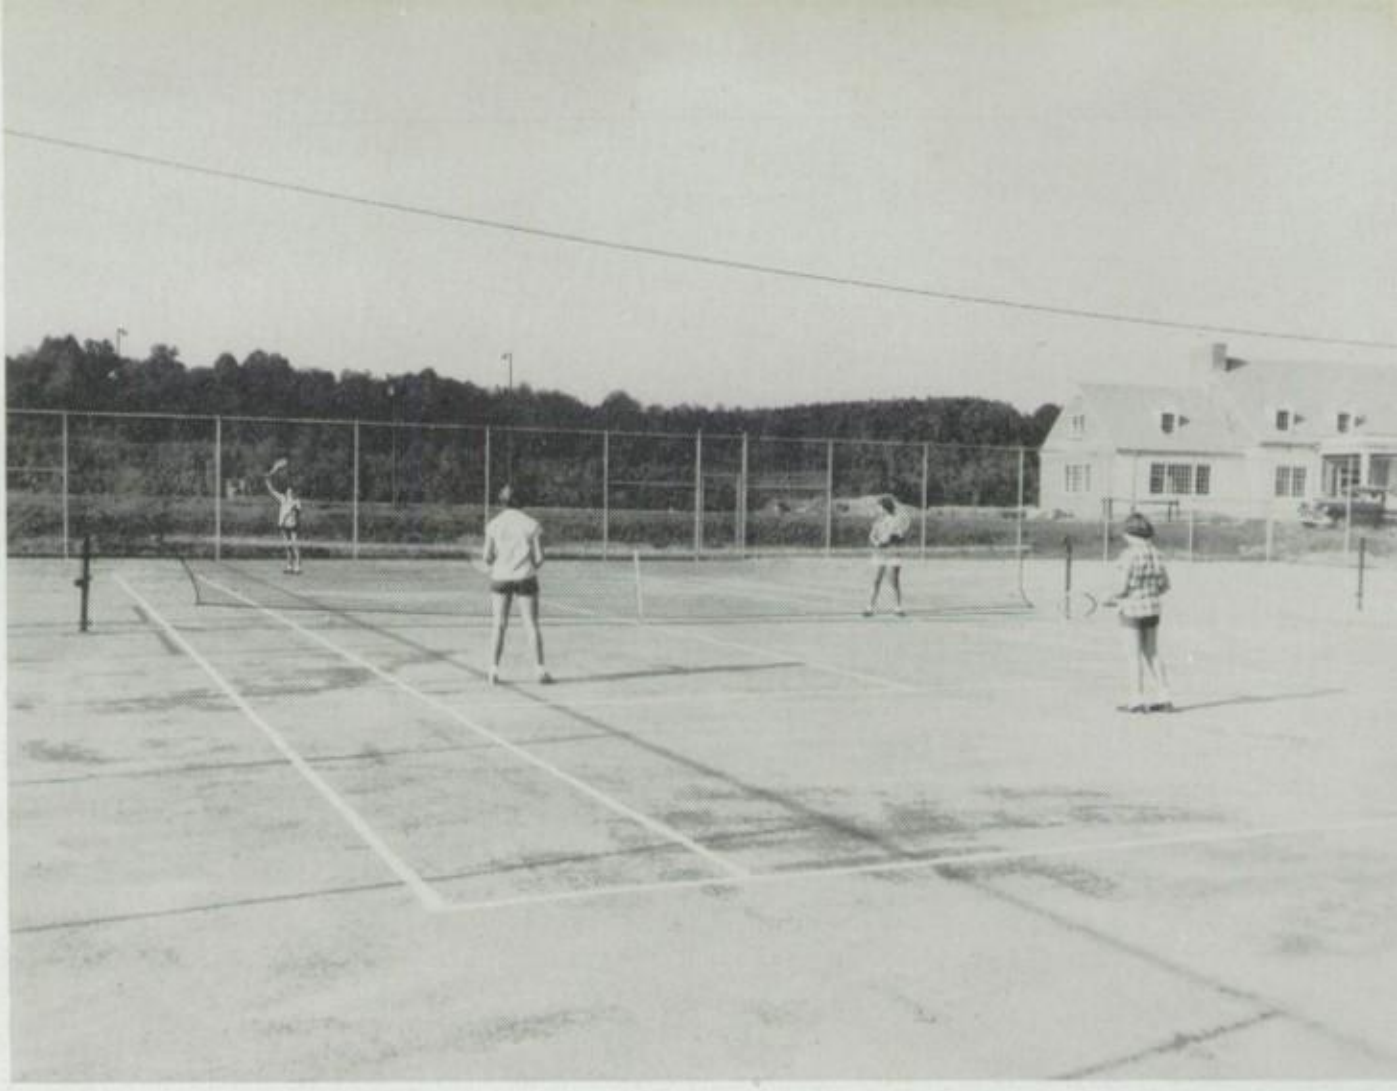


English? History? Or both?

Here it is exam time again. It seems like no time since we took them before. Where did the semester go? My, this is terrible! Some of us are looking to see if we lost any weeks on the way. Exams over, everyone comes dragging back to find out the bad news. Mixed emotions are evident. Some faces are joyful, some sad, and some disgusted. "What will my parents say?"

Distressed Seniors

On Graduation Day



Tennis, a summer favorite.

Graduation exercises over, the Seniors look around in a dazed way, finding it hard to believe that they've really left the old school for good. Before long, however, the strange feeling wears off, and for three whole, free months we all turn to such summer favorites as swimming, tennis, and golf.

It's practically in the cup.

lots of luck and happiness in the following years to a swell girl. love ya Jacqueline club

CLASS HISTORY

Bright dawned the day we became Freshmen. We were in high school! Then fell the bombshell. All Freshmen would stay at Junior High School. Imagine! Freshmen in high school at Junior High!!! But the year 1947-48 wasn't too bad. We were looked up to by Junior High students, because we were really in high school.

Then in the fall of 1948, some two hundred excited Sophomores roamed the halls of Dobyns-Bennett High School. At last we were there. We became the proverbial green Freshmen. We sat in our classes and watched the construction of the new building far more than we did our teachers. That year many of us decided that brick laying was the job for us.

Suddenly, in 1949, we found ourselves Juniors. The new building was complete. Dignified Seniors and green Freshmen alike wandered around lost. We laughed to see the Seniors, so undignified.

On August 31, 1950, one hundred fifty of us looked around in a dazed way and asked, "Can I really be a Senior? I don't feel a bit different." Yes, we were Seniors.

Class History

Three years ago, over two hundred enthusiastic students entered Dobyns-Bennett High School. Due to crowded conditions, we spent our Freshman Year at Junior High. Although we had no class officers, our Student Council class representatives were Jane Kirkpatrick and Don Boyd.

Finally we entered Dobyns-Bennett, only to be confronted by the new, new building, Julius Caesar, and second year algebra. We elected Paul Rathbun our Sophomore president, and Jane and Don were our Student Council members.

Now we are Juniors, and have finally found our way around the school. We have elected Rodney Robinette class president, Ann Elliott vice president, Carol Esser secretary, and Jane Kirkpatrick treasurer. Ann Elliott, Bill Wilborn, and Esther Benedict are our Student Council representatives.

We have been kept busy with selecting the class rings, presenting a Junior play, honoring the Seniors with a prom, and other traditional activities. With happy memories of our first three years, we are looking forward with enthusiasm to the excitement and privileges of being Seniors at Dobyns-Bennett.

Key Club

Membership in the Key Club is restricted to boys. These boys are from the upper classes, and the club tries to get a cross section of the leading boys who it believes will unselfishly devote a part of their time to the betterment of the school.

Each year the club, in co-operation with the local Kiwanis Club, sponsors Career Day, a vocational guidance program. It also holds a Parents' Day banquet to which the mothers and fathers of members are invited.

Chemistry closeups —

Typical of the progress and versatility of today's chemical industry is the array of plastics, fibers, and chemicals made by Tennessee Eastman. These man-made materials, when converted by other manufacturers, serve you in hundreds of different ways. For example—

TENITE—a tough, colorful plastic—has uses ranging from fashion accessories and toys to sporting goods and parts for heavy industry.

ESTRON—a cellulose acetate fiber—has won wide popularity in such varied uses as bridal gowns, children's snow suits, and men's summer suits.

CHEMICALS—in an ever-increasing number—help make this a better world in which to live. Photographic film, rubber, gasoline, paints, and cosmetics are some of the products improved with Eastman chemicals.

Estron fabrics are popular for sportswear where they provide lasting whiteness, pleasant feel, soil-and-crush resistance, and superior pleat retention

Hi,
You're very sweet and I wish you a lota luck.

Love ya,
Anne

Building For The Future At "Boat Yard"

About the time of the Revolution, flat boats to carry iron, bacon, salt and other commodities were built at Boat Yard on the south fork of the Holston River near the present site of the city of Kingsport. In those days, Colonel James King had a mill at the mouth of Reedy Creek and the yards at which the flat boats were built and loaded became known as "Kings's Port."

In the surrounding countryside and on mountain farms lived a race of self-reliant men and women. Out of their early privation and pioneering came the heritage of honor, of bravery, of sturdy character, and friendliness that characterizes the people of Kingsport.

Dobyns-Bennett Graduates – You, too, are builders of the Kingsport of tomorrow. May your efforts be as successful as the pioneers who gave of their time and effort to make Kingsport Grow.

Dear Marie,

Words can't express how much I think of you. You are one of the sweetest, cutest, nicest girls I know.

We've had lots of fun together and I know that you can't forget those times, even if you try.

Remember those picnics we went on last summer; that silly fashion show in town etc; that banquet (I'm sorry I didn't get to go!);

Remember the times we've 'fussed' about who was going to come to who's house; and the times you've tried to make me hurry (and I wouldn't).

I'm really glad that you and ~~are going together.~~ I hope that you'll ~~at~~ (sorry I messed that up! Hope you'll forgive me, girl.)

Don't forget our locker (both of them). Remember 910 & 504. I hope we have the same ones next year.

Remember those (these) times at dinner at D. B. H. S. Remember that back table and all the crazy, funny things that happened back there.
